

Listado

The diagram illustrates a recommender system architecture. At the top, a horizontal bar contains six small squares, with the first one labeled "rating". Below this, a grid of squares represents product ratings. The first square in the grid is labeled "Product Name" and "rating". The second square contains "...". The grid is 3 rows by 4 columns. An arrow points from the first square of the second row to the first square of the third row.
